MAP OF SIKKIM

SIKKIM STATE JUDICIAL DISTRICTS AND SUB DIVISIONS

HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE OF THE SIKKIM JUDICIARY

Sikkim has a past history of its own. Prior to its merger with the Union of India in the year 1975 by the Constitution (Thirty Sixth Amendment) Act, 1975, the erstwhile Sikkim was under a monarchy. The King who was popularly known as “the Chogyal” was the fountainhead of justice. King’s words were the laws. Under the then administrative set up there was no place for an independent judiciary. The judicial procedure being followed then was very simple and free from legal technicalities. The Courts were dispensing substantive justice based on the principle of justice, equity and good conscience. Lawyers were not allowed to appear in Court.

The available records do not throw much light into the remote past. It can, however, be gathered from these records that the administration of justice in Sikkim in the last century was being carried out by the Feudal Landlords (Adda Courts), Jongpons (District Officers), Pipons (Headmen) and Mandals with the Chogyal at the top.

In 1909, Kazis, Thikadars and Lamas were invested with judicial powers by the Stat Council resolution. They could try civil suits up to the valuation of Rs. 500/-.

In 1916, Appellate Courts by the designation of Chief Court was created with jurisdiction to try important originals suits and also to hear appeals against the decisions of the Adda Courts. This Court also exercised supervisory and appellate jurisdiction over the Adda Courts. The Chief Court was not the final Court. The appeal against the decision of the Chief Court would lie to the Supreme Court of His Highness, the Maharaja. The Court of the Maharaja was the final Court of appeal in the State. It has no original jurisdiction. A Board on the lines of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in England would hear the parties and scrutinize the evidence regarding merit of the case and then tender its opinion to the Maharaja.

In 1949, the Adda Courts were abolished on the recommendation of the Judicial Proposal Committee. The State was divided into 4(four) revenue Districts and Magistrates were appointed in District with original and appellate jurisdiction on the criminal and civil side. The Courts of the Assistant Magistrate and the Court of Tahsildars were created. In the lowest rung, a few Honorary Courts of Magistrates were created to dispose of petty criminal and civil cases. The Chief Magistrate had both original and appellate jurisdiction on civil and criminal sides. He had unlimited powers.

From the available records it appears that in 1953, a Judge of the High Court of Sikkim was appointed but in 1955, High Court of Judicature (Jurisdiction and Powers) Proclamation, 1955 was issued establishing a High Court in Sikkim. The High Court thus established was made the final Court in all judicial matters, civil or criminal, subject to the exercise of prerogative by the Maharaja to grant mercy, pardon, remission, commutation and reduction of sentence in case of conviction. The Maharaja had also retained his prerogative to set up a Special Tribunal for the review of any review of any case, civil or criminal.

Upon merger, Sikkim became the 22nd State of India. Under Clause (i) of Article 371F, the High Court functioning immediately prior to the date of merger became the High Court for the State of Sikkim under the Constitution like any other High Court in the country. Under Clause (i) of the same Article all Courts of Civil, Criminal and Revenue Jurisdiction, all Authorities and all Officers, Judicial, Executive and Ministerial throughout Sikkim were to continue to exercise their respective powers subject to the provisions of the Constitution and under Clause (k) all laws in force immediately before the appointed day in Sikkim were to continue to be in force until amended or repealed by a competent legislature or other competent authority.

The Government of Sikkim Act, 1974, which came to be passed in the Sikkim Assembly (which received the assent of the Chogyal on 4th July, 1974) in pursuance of the historical agreement of 8th May, 1973, between the Chogyal, the leaders of the political parties representing the people of Sikkim and Government of India, provided that all Judges in Sikkim shall be Independent in exercise of the Judicial function. In keeping with the ideal and the set goal, the process of separation of judiciary from the executive started soon after the merger. In 1978, Sikkim Civil Courts Act was passed with a view to consolidate the laws relating to the Constitution of Civil Courts subordinate to the High Court and other relevant matters. The Sikkim State Judicial Service Rules 1975 and the Sikkim Superior Judicial Service Rules 1980 were framed providing for the mode of recruitment and service of judicial officers, thereby creating a separate cadre of judicial officers in the State. Besides, the Code of Criminal Procedure 1973, which provided for separation of judiciary from the executive was extended and enforced in the State of Sikkim in the year 1994.

With the commencement of the Constitution and under the new democratic set up the restriction placed earlier on lawyers to appear in Courts came to be ignored. Thus institution of lawyers as it exists today came into existence.

INFORMATION REGARDING SIKKIM

Tucked away in India's North-East corner, between Tibet, Bhutan and Nepal is, without question, a very special part of India beautiful, unspoiled, green, full of orchids, mountains, butterflies and greeneries. Until 1975, Sikkim remained an independent kingdom, ruled by the Chogyal.

In Sikkim various communities with their own customs, religion and culture intermingle freely to constitute a homogeneous blend. The predominant communities are the LEPCHAS, BHUTIAS and NEPALESE. Many plainsmen have also settled, especially in the urban areas and they are almost always engaged in business and Government service. A small part of the population consists of migrant laborers from the plains and Nepal attracted by the development activities in the state, like the construction of roads, bridges and buildings.

SIKKIM : The state which is the second smallest state of India, lying between 27 to 28 degrees North latitude and 88 to 89 degrees East longitude is the second smallest state in India. It is barely 7,096 sq. kms in size yet has an elevation ranging from 300 mtrs. To 8585 mtrs. Above sea level. It's Geography is dominated by the most majestic mountain chain in the world which includes the Khangchendzonga, world's third highest mountain and is worshipped by the Sikkimese as the guardian deity to their land.

CAPITAL TOWN : Gangtok, is elevated at 5,840 feet above sea level.

DISTRICT HEADQUARTERS:

Nathula:

56 kms. from Gangtok is a 'Nathula' Pass at an altitude of 14,200 ft. bordering between India and China in the Tibetan Plateau. It is one of the highest motor –able roads and richly covered by many varieties of alpine flora and fauna. A tranquil place to visit. Nathula is open only for Indian nationals on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays. The visitors have to get the permit to visit the place.

Rumtek Dharma Chakra Centre:

About 45 minutes drive from Gangtok, 24 kms. away, is the Rumtek Dharma Chakra Centre, the seat of the Kagyu order, one of the 4 major Tibetan Buddhist sects. Since the late 1960s, after the arrival of His Holiness the 16th Gyalwa Karmapa, the Centre houses some of the world's most unique religious scriptures and religious rare objects. Traditional in design, it is almost a replica of the original Kagyurpa Monastery in Tsurphu, Tibet. It has over 300 centres overseas.

Tashi View Point:

Build by the late King of Sikkim Shri Tashi Namgyal, it is situated 4 kms. from Gangtok town from where one can have a clear view of opposite hills, besides Mt. Kanchandzonga. This site offers a breathtaking panorama of the majestic Mt. Kanchandzonga.

Ganesh Tok:

It is a very small temple of Lord Ganesh, a God worshipped by Hindus. It is on a hillock on Gangtok – Nathula Road. A Sikkim Government nursery is just nearby.

Sa- Ngor- Chotshog Centre:

It is a Tibetan refugee monastic institution established in 1961 by his Eminence Luding Khen Rimpoche, Head of Ngorpa, sub-sect of the Sakya Order, with the blessing of H.H. Sakya Trizin and H.H. the Dalai Lama. This is the only monastery of the Sakya Order of Tibetan Buddhism in Sikkim. It is located on a beautiful hill- top just 5 kms. away from Gangtok.

WEST SIKKIM

Pamayangtse Monastery:

Pemayangtse Monastery is one of the oldest monasteries in the State. Originally established by Lhatsun Chempo, one of the revered Lamas to have performed the consecration ceremony of the first Chogyal (Religious Monarch) of Sikkim. This ancient monastery belongs to the Nyingma Buddhism and has been considered as one of the premier monasteries in the State, having been entrusted with the task to perform all religious functions of the erstwhile monarch. Originally, it was established as a high class Monastery for "pure Monks" (Tasang). Inside the Monastery there is wooden structure depicting the Maha Guru's heavenly place (sang-tok-Palri) which is considered a masterpiece created by Late Dungzim Rimpoche.

Rabdentse Ruins:

This was the second capital of the erstwhile Kingdom of Sikkim after Yuksom and till the year 1814 A.D., the Kings of Sikkim had ruled the State from this place. Today, the ruins lie hidden from the by applying to the Tourism Department through a registered Travel Agency. The site has now been taken over by the Archeological Department.

Sanga –Choling Monastery:

This Monastery is situated on a ridge above Pelling and the famous Pemayangtse Monastery. Built in 1697 A.D., it is considered to be the oldest monasteries in Sikkim. In order to reach this Monastery one has to be prepared to spend at least 40 minutes walking up the steep hilly slope which leads through rich forest covers.

Khecheopalri Lake:

Khecheopalri Lake is considered to be one of the sacred lakes of Sikkim both by the Buddhist and the Hindus. The lake remains hidden in the rich forest cover. It is believed that birds do not permit even a single leaf to float on the lake surface. There is a motor –able road from Pemayangtse right up to the lake area. For those interested in spending a night or two in the peaceful environment a trekker's hut has been provided by the Tourism Department.

Yuksom:

This was the first capital of Sikkim, where according to the historical records, the first Chogyal of the Kingdom of Sikkim was consecrated in the 1641 A.D. by three learned lamas. The evidence of the consecration ceremony is still intact in Norbugang Chorten in the form of stone seats and a foot print of the Head Lama on the stone.

Tashiding Monastery:

Tashiding is also famous for the most holy Chorten known as 'Thong-Warang-Dol' which literally means 'Saviours by mere sight'. It is believed that the mere act of beholding it is supposed to wash away all the sins of the devotee. Another important feature in Tashiding is the sacred water festival popularly known as 'Bhumchu'.

Varsey:

It lies at an elevation of 10,000 ft. and has a motorable road access upto Hilley. An easy 4 kms. trek from there takes one up to the Varsey Rhododendron Sanctuary. One can also trek from Soreng or Dentam in West Sikkim. The place provides a magnificent view of the mountains. Visitors can halt at 'Guras Kunj' trekkers hut.

Phodong Monastery:

One of the six major monasteries in Sikkim, Phodong monastery is located in the North approximately 38 kms. from Gangtok, 4 kms. beyond Phodong is the recently renovated Labrang Monastery unique in its architectural design.

Phensang Monastery:

The monastery is situated on the gentle slope stretching from Kabi to Phodong with perhaps one of the best landscapes in the region. The Phensang Monastery, under the Nyingmapa Buddhist Order, was built in 1721 during the time of Jigme Pawo. It was gutted by fire in 1947 and rebuilt in 1948 through the efforts of the lamas. The annual festival of Chaam is performed on the 29th day of the tenth month of the Lunar calendar (Tibetan Calendar).

Guru –Dongmar Lake:

Guru- Dongmar lake is considered as one of the sacred lakes of this State both by the Buddhists and the Hindus. The lake remains milky in color throughout and it is believed that Guru Padmasambhava had touched the lake on his way to Tibet.

Singhik:

The place offers one of the most spectacular and closest views of Mt. Kanchenjunga and its ranges. A well located Tourist Lodge provides accommodation for visitors. The area also has a number of interesting short nature trails for 1 to 3 days along the higher ridges of the surrounding hills. One can also savour the most graceful peak in the world, Mt. Siniolchu.

Lachung:

A Bhutia village with a unique local self- governing body called the Zumsa which substitutes the Panchayat. Lachung has emerged as a tourist destination with the soaring popularity of Yumthang Valley which is just 25 kms. from Lachung. The Village, spreads out on either side of Lachung Chu, has managed to retain its unique culture and tradition. The Lachung Monastery on the slope opposite to the highway is a focal point of all religious function of the local inhabitants. To get a glimpse of the religious functions performed on auspicious occasion should visit to the Monastery from part of tour itinerary.

Yumthang:

Yumthang, at an elevation of 11,800 ft. and 140 kms. from Gangtok is a paradise for nature lovers with a fascinating blend of flora and fauna and breathtaking scenic grandeur. The valley is also the home of Singbha Rhododendron Sanctuary with 24 species of Rhododendrons. Yumthang 'Tsa-Chu' or the hot spring of the left bank of Lachung Chu is immensely popular for its curative properties and healing power.

Lachen:

Lachen is situated at an altitude of 2750 mtrs. and about 6 hrs. drive from Gangtok. The Lachen Monastery located on top of the village commands a panoramic view of the surrounding hills and the country side. Resorts, hotels and lodges are available for accommodation.

Namchi:

Namchi, meaning 'Sky High', nested among the hills at the elevation of 5,500 ft. commands panoramic view of the snow-capped mountains and vast stretches of valley. A top Sangdruptse hilltop near Namchi, recently erected is the world's tallest statue of Guru Padmasambhava, the patron saint of both Hindus and the Buddhist.

Temi Tea Garden:

The one and only tea garden existing in the State produces one of the top quality teas in the international market. The tea garden is spread out on a gently hill slope originating from the Tendong Hill and provides a magnificent view for the surrounding villages. The visit to the factory could be an eye opener for those wanting to know more about tea processing methods.

Ravangla:

At the base of Menam Hill is Ravangla, a small township and transit to various tourist destination in South and West Sikkim. It is also an upcoming tourist spot and transit point for trekkers to Menam Hill and Borong. There are accommodation facilities and numerous short nature trails. A trek down to the sacred cave 'Sher Chok Bephu', one of the four holiest caves in Sikkim, would be a memorable experience.

Budha Park:

It is situated near Rabong, Ravangla in South Sikkim. It was constructed in 2006-13 and features a 130-foot high statue of Lord Buddha as its centerpiece. The site was chosen within the larger religious complex of the Rabong Gumpa (Monastery), itself a centuries –old place of pilgrimage. Also nearby is Ralang Monastery, a key monastery in Tibetan Buddhism.

The statue was consecrated on 25th March, 2013 by His Holiness the 14th Dalai Lama. The statue of Lord Buddha marks the occasion of the 2550th birth anniversary of Gautama Buddha.

Mainam Hill:

Situated at an altitude of 10,300 ft. the scenic view from this height is perhaps, unmatched in this part of the world. Mt. Kanchendzonga and its surrounding ranges looms above the dwarf the richly forested and rugged hill. On a clear sunny day, it is possible to see the plains of Bengal spanning across Kalimpong and Darjeeling Hills in the South, right across the Indo- China border towards the North. A short distance away is the legendary Bhaley Dhunga, a kind of rocky spur which juts out from the ridge top and remains suspended in the air above Yangang village.

Borong:

Facing the snow- capped mountains is Borong, motorable from Ravangla or a trek via Menam. A picturesque village, its beautiful landscape and magnificent view is also host to the hot spring, 'Borong Tsa Chu'. The trek trail, originating from Namchi or Damthang to Tendong- Ravangla –Menam –Borong (5-6 days) is one of the most interesting trails scaling all the hill tops along the route. The trek can continue to Tashiding or terminate at Borong and drive back to Ravangla.
